Involvement Means Success

At Central Carolina Technical College, we agree that your participation in any of our outstanding clubs and organizations, college sponsored activities and events, and educational and personal enrichment workshops will help you do better in school. We offer many opportunities for professional growth and leadership. Club, workshop and other activity announcements are posted weekly on campus information boards, plasmas, and on myCCTC. Log in and stay connected!

Clubs and Organizations

Consider the advantages of participating in any of our outstanding student clubs and organizations.

ACTS (A Calling to Salvation)

This club was organized to share Christian fellowship and provide opportunities for academic, personal and spiritual growth. The club's mission is to promote positive thinking and community service.

Biology Club

The purpose of this organization is to promote interest, understanding, and knowledge of the scientific world, throughout the college and local community. The club fosters the type of honest skepticism that is necessary for lifelong learning and focuses on the area of Biology and our environment. The CCTC Biology Club is open to students of any major. Membership is open to all faculty, staff, and students of Central Carolina Technical College expressing an interest in science. Members will pay $5.00 dues each semester (Fall and Spring) and volunteer three hours per semester. Student members must maintain a 2.0 grade point average and be enrolled in at least one class at CCTC. Members must adhere to the school conduct code.

CCTC Chapter of the National Student Nurses' Association

Community service, fellowship, learning and fun! These are the four key components of the CCTC Student Nurses Association. The club's purpose is to help prepare students for their roles as professionals in the nursing field and is open to all students enrolled in the ADN program.

COASt (Community Outreach And Self-development)

COASt is an organization that strives to build the relationship between CCTC students and the surrounding community. Students achieve self-development through volunteering, coordinating meaningful events, and participating in various community service opportunities. This is a great organization for anyone who wants to make a difference, create lasting bonds, or to earn volunteer experience.

Criminal Justice Association

The goals of the Criminal Justice Association are to involve students in college and community service projects, develop teamwork, and foster civic responsibility. The Criminal Justice Association is open to students, faculty, and staff who wish to share their knowledge, skills, and abilities.

Gamer Club

The Gamer Club is a student organization that provides students with the opportunity to interact with other students interested in tabletop and electronic games. The club encourages critical thinking and problem solving skills through friendly competition in a safe and nurturing environment. Interested students can also enhance their knowledge in the Gaming and Information Technology industries.

GSA (Gay Straight Alliance)

The purpose of GSA is to foster diversity and provide a support network for LGBTQ students, as well as educate the straight, cisgender student populations on LGBTQ matters.

H.E.LP (Human Service, Encouragement, Learning, and Personal Growth)

HELP stands for Human Service, Encouragement, Learning, and Personal Growth. These 4 pillars guide the functions of the HELP club. Members participate in community service, professional and personal development workshops, human services programs and fundraisers for worthy causes. This club is great for individuals who have a strong desire to help others within their community and want to enhance their potential.

LPD (Leadership and Professional Development Council)

The Leadership and Professional Development Council is a student-led organization under the branch of TRiO Student Support Services. TRiO LPD Council was established in the 2013-2014 academic year at Central Carolina Technical College. The first official meeting of the LPD Council was held on Friday, February 15, 2013. The primary objective of the LPD Council aims at developing and enhancing the leadership skills of current students as well as assist students in professional development. It provides an opportunity for peers to interact and grow personally and professionally while gaining instrumental leadership experience.

MIM (Men in Motion)

Men in Motion is a student organization designed to strengthen the connection among men at Central Carolina Technical College. Through discussion, activities, service and personal leadership men are developed academically, personally, and professionally.

Natural Resources Management Club

This club was organized by students in the Environmental Engineering Technology and Natural Resources Programs, but is open to all students attending Central Carolina Technical College. The purpose of this club is to protect the environment through action and awareness.

Phenomenal Women Club

This club serves the purpose of bringing together women who attend Central Carolina. The club is open to women of all ages and stages of life and strives to encourage and inspire them to reach their highest potential through a range of educational and empowering tasks and experiences. This organization will also serve to strengthen the fabric of our college through positive action. Membership is open to all female students attending any campus of CCTC.

Phi Beta Lambda

Phi Beta Lambda (Future Business Leaders of America) is a postsecondary professional business organization open to any student who has an interest in business, regardless of the student's program of study. Phi Beta Lambda's purpose is to bring business, education, and the community together in a positive working relationship in order to build leadership qualities in students. PBL is affiliated on a state and national level, allowing students to meet and compete with other students from across the state and nation, as well as to participate in many productive workshops and competitive events. Students must maintain a cumulative 2.0 GPA to maintain membership in the Central Carolina chapter of Phi Beta Lambda.

PTK (Phi Theta Kappa)

Phi Theta Kappa seeks to recognize and encourage scholarship among associate degree students. According to its international guidelines, the organization "provides opportunity for the development of leadership and service, for an intellectual climate to exchange ideas and ideals, for lively fellowship for scholars and for stimulation of interest in continuing academic excellence." Membership in the Central Carolina chapter of Phi Theta Kappa is limited to associate degree and certificate students who have attained a GPA of 3.25 after completion of 12 or more credit hours.
